3. Student's Rights

Students or their parents or guardians may have the legal right (including under FERPA, COPPA and the U.S. State Privacy Laws (e.g., California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA))) to access, correct, export or delete certain of their own PII information in the student record or content, or to make certain choices and to exercise certain rights. To make a request, please contact your school or school district educational institution or educational agency. We will help them provide the requested access or make appropriate corrections. If we receive such requests directly, we will refer those inquiries to the applicable educational institution to the extent required or permitted by applicable law or contract.

4. Right to Inspect and review Education Records.

- A parent, legal guardian or student has the right to submit to the educational institution, written requests that identify the student record(s) they wish to inspect. student's request must be submitted to the educational institution's registrar, or the appropriate official at the educational institution. If the records are not maintained by the educational institution, the official at the educational institution will advise the student of the correct entity to whom the request should be addressed.

- All requests shall be granted or denied in writing within 45 days of receipt. If the request is granted, you will be notified of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
- If the request is denied or not responded to within 45 days, you may appeal to the educational institution's FERPA appeals officer. Additional information regarding the appeal procedures will be provided to you if a request is denied.
- Educational institutions are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for students to review the records.

5. Right to Request Amendment of student's Education Records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights

- A parent, legal guardian or student may request the educational institution to the amendment of the student's education records that the parent, legal guardian or student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

- You should write to the official of the educational institution responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record you want changed and specify why it should be changed.
- If the educational institution decides not to amend the record as requested by you, the educational institution will notify you of the decision in writing and will advise you of your right to a hearing before the educational institution's FERPA appeals officer regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to you by the educational institution when notified of your right to a hearing.

6. The right to provide consent to disclosure, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

A parent, guardian, or student has the right to provide written consent prior to the educational institution disclosing PII contained in the student's education records. However, there are exceptions.

Exceptions which permit disclosure without consent is disclosure to educational institution's officials with legitimate educational interests include the following:
